

Louisville Youth Philanthropy Council

Class #1: Saturday, September 21, 2019

Metro United Way, 334 East Broadway

11:00am – 01:30pm

NOTES:

After initial introductions, the student teams moved to their break-out rooms and Candy Medina facilitated the 'True Colors' survey for the parents in attendance. After a description of the personality colors and characteristics, attending parents/guardians were given a high-level overview of the LYPC history, calendar and goals for the year by Ina Miller (LYPC Staff) and Brad Ennis (Advisory Board member). Advisory Board members Molly Melia, Mike Pitt, and Aaron Rosenberg also attended. Molly Melia took headshots of all of the students as they came into the building.

While parents were in the overview session, Council members worked on development of their team missions. At the conclusion (after lunch), the team Captain and Co-Captain for each team presented their team mission and team name to the assembled parents and students.

1. Team Breakouts

Team 'EduCare' (Facilitator: Shelby Allen)

Team Captain: Justin Durik

Team Co-Captain: Lucy Champelli

Mission: To promote education in our Louisville community with emphasis on racial and geographical disparities.

Team 'KeepLouCool' (Facilitator: Pia Sahni)

Team Captain: Thomas Fogarty

Team Co-Captain: Ma'Naya Hillman

Mission: To address and sustain an adequate environment in Louisville for generations to come through direct action.

2. College Credit Course

After the class, Ms. Jeanne Guerrero (Office of Admissions at University of Louisville) described the application process and requirements to participate in the college credit program. Eight LYPC students (Meena Abdulrazak, Thomas Fogarty, Grace Halbleib, Ma'Naya Hillman, Gabrielle McGregor, Nediva Quaye, Emma Perna and Fernanda Scharfenberger) elected to participate in the college credit course this year, and enrolled on-line at that time.

3. Homework

- (For each team member on each team): Identify organizations in the Louisville area which provide programs that will potentially fulfill your team's mission.

Next class: Saturday, September 28th, 2019 (Metro United Way) – 11am
